Expectations

Students are expected to actively engage in the target language every day. This includes speaking Spanish with the teacher and classmates, participating in partner and group activities, and contributing positively to a collaborative learning environment. Students should come prepared to take risks, make mistakes, and use Spanish as much as possible to build their proficiency.

Cell phones / Listening devices / Computer usage

- Cell phones will be collected by rows and returned at the end of the period.
- Students should not have earbuds in unless it is permitted.
- Students should not be on computers unless it is required by a Spanish assignment.

Grading 40% Daily Work (Worksheets, Conjuguemos assignments, etc.)

- Unless otherwise stated, students should only use information from their Spanish packets to complete work. Using vocabulary and/or grammar structures from other sources (i.e. the internet or an amigo) will result in losing credit.
- Most daily work can be completed in class and will require minimal homework.

Grading 25% Quizzes

- Quizzes will assess students' proficiency in vocabulary, grammar, translation, or listening comprehension.
- Make-up quizzes will take place before or after school.
- There will be no retakes on quizzes.

Grading 20% Speaking

- Speaking is an essential component of this course. Students are expected to make a sincere effort to use proper Spanish pronunciation. Students will regularly work with partners or in small groups to practice and develop their speaking skills. Most units include a speaking assessment that incorporates the vocabulary and grammar studied in that unit.

Grading 15% Online work / Participation

- Students are responsible for bringing a charged device daily to complete online work.
- Online work will include Wordwall activities, some Google docs/slides, etc.
- Many of our in-class activities and language games are designed for partners or small groups. Students are expected to work with classmates to develop language skills.
- Matching cards, vocabulary/grammar games, whiteboard activities and cultural videos are in place to build students' knowledge of the Spanish language and culture.
- Students who put their head down, work on other assignments in place of Spanish work, etc. will lose participation points.

Appropriate Content

Students should err on the side of caution when selecting content for assignments. The teacher reserves the right to deduct points or assign a zero for any assignment, project, or submission that includes content deemed inappropriate, offensive, or disrespectful.

Missing Work from Absences

Students should check the Google Classroom "Absent Work" link for missed assignments. Students can get copies of notes from classmates/teacher upon returning from an absence. Worksheets will be given to students when they return to class.

For our class, deadlines for submitting absent work will be as follows:

Assignments from Week 1 are due by 3:00 Friday of Week 2. Assignments from Week 2 are due by Friday of Week 3, and so on. If students are absent on a Friday, online material is still due by 3:00. Worksheets must be turned in on the first day back to receive credit.

Infinite Campus / Attendance / Grades

Infinite Campus will be updated regularly with attendance and grades. If students were absent for an assignment, a zero will be recorded as a placeholder. Full credit can be received on the assignment. If students were present and did not do an assignment a permanent zero will be recorded.

World Language Credits

Spanish is not a requirement for graduation, however two credits in the same world language is often required for 4-year colleges. Students should speak with their counselor if interested in taking world language courses via Haywood Community College and/or NCVPS.
